

1CP Software PLR Review – Launch Your Own Software Business Without Coding

Have you ever wanted to sell your own software but felt completely lost? Maybe you thought about hiring a developer, only to find the costs skyrocket. Or perhaps you tried creating a product yourself but got stuck spending endless hours writing copy, designing pages, and figuring out the tech.

For most beginners, starting a software business feels overwhelming. It takes too much time, too much money, and far too many skills. That's why many people quit before they even begin.

But what if you could skip all those struggles and instantly step into the shoes of a software owner? Imagine having a ready-made product you can rebrand, sell, and profit from—without any coding or technical experience.

That's exactly what 1CP Software PLR delivers.

What is 1CP Software PLR?

1CP Software PLR is a complete “business-in-a-box” built around a rebrandable Chrome extension called 1 Click Promo (1CP).

This lightweight tool creates entire affiliate promo packs in one click—product summaries, email subject lines, email copy, and even bonus ideas.

The real power, however, lies in the PLR (Private Label Rights) license. With it, you can:

- Use the software for your own affiliate promos.
- Rebrand it with your own name and logo.
- Sell it as your own product and keep 100% of the profits.
- Bundle it as a bonus, lead magnet, or part of a funnel.

Alongside the software, you get professionally written sales pages, graphics, copy, and step-by-step training. Everything you need to launch in under an hour—even if you’re a complete beginner.

Who Created 1CP Software PLR?

This package comes from Mark Bishop, a well-known digital marketer with a track record of building simple, result-driven tools. His successful products include BLOX 2.0, CopyCatalyst, eCompare, VidSkippy 2.0, and more.

Mark is recognized for turning proven strategies into beginner-friendly solutions—and 1CP Software PLR is another example of his ability to help newcomers overcome technical barriers and launch fast.
